

Appendix 89 to
THE HISTORY OF SCOUTING IN SOUTH GEORGIA

(Appendix Updated on: June 25, 2013)

Photos from the Chehaw Council business meetings which until 1951 were also the awards banquet.

The First Annual Meeting in 1940

No photo

The first annual Chehaw Council banquet was held on January 16, 1940 at the Gordon Hotel in Albany.

The Second Annual Meeting in 1941

J. W. Bush, the first President of Chehaw Council, receiving an award as he turns over the Presidency to his successor at the Chehaw Council Banquet on January 22, 1941.

(Photo from The Albany Herald. Used with permission.)

The Third Annual Meeting in 1942

J. W. Bush, left, above, is shown presenting to President L. W. Smith of Chehaw Council, Boy Scouts, the Acorn Award for the council's outstanding record in membership gain during the last year. The increase was 73 per cent—second best in the Southeast—and Mr. Bush, National Council representative, made the presentation of the award at Chehaw's annual banquet in the American Legion home last night. (Herald Staff Photo)

J. W. Bush, presenting Council President L. W. Smith of Chehaw Council with the Acorn Award at the annual Chehaw Council Banquet on January 22, 1942.

(Photo from The Albany Herald. Used with permission.)

There are no photos from the Fourth Annual Meeting in 1943

The Fifth Annual Meeting in 1944

AWARDED SILVER BEAVER: W. R. Turner (left), president of the Chehaw Boy Scout Council, of Cordele, congratulates Charles S. Hogg, Jr., Amerious Scouter, after presenting him with the Silver Beaver, Boy Scout award. This is the highest award that can be made to a Scouter, and the presentation was made at the annual council dinner. The honor came as a complete surprise to Mr. Hogg, outstanding young Amerious businessman. The announcement was kept secret until the banquet last night. (Herald Staff Photo.)

The only photo from the annual Chehaw Council Banquet held on January 26, 1944.
Council President W. R. Turner congratulates Charles Hogg upon receiving his Silver Beaver award.

(Photo from The Albany Herald. Used with permission.)

The Sixth Annual Meeting in 1945

Photo from the annual Chehaw Council Banquet held on January 24, 1945.
Standing (L to R) L. F. Bowen, C. M. Herrick, Frank Lunsford, Ray Pinkston & Heidt S. Swearingen
Seated (L to R) W. R. Turner & I. C. Gortatowsky
(Photo from The Albany Herald. Used with permission.)

The Seventh Annual Meeting in 1946

Photo from the annual Chehaw Council Banquet held on January 16, 1946
(L to R) past Council President W. R. Turner, Pierce Harris
& new Council President James R. Blair
(Photo from The Albany Herald. Used with permission.)

The Eight Annual Meeting in 1947

Photo from the annual Chehaw Council Banquet held on January 31, 1947.
(L to R) G. C. McKenzie, Harold F. Pote of the National Council in New York City, & James R. Blair.

(Photo from The Albany Herald. Used with permission.)

The Ninth Annual Meeting in 1948

Photo from the annual Chehaw Council Banquet held on December 16, 1948.
(L to R) Frank J. Lunsford, Bishop Arthur J. Moore, and G. C. McKenzie.

(Photo from The Albany Herald. Used with permission.)

The Tenth Annual Meeting in 1949

Photo from the annual Chehaw Council Banquet held on December 14, 1949.
(L to R) W. E. Nexsen, Jack Hand, Herman Turner, Frank J. Lunsford & C. R. Pittard.

(Photo from The Albany Herald. Used with permission.)