

Camp Osborn Photos of the Damage from the the Second Tornado of January 21, 2017 and the Clean-up of the January 2, 2017 Tornado

On January 21st, 2017 a second tornado struck Camp Osborn. The second tornado started in Dougherty County, travelled through Worth County and ended in Wilcox County. In Worth County, the tornado travelled along Jewell Crowe Road which is just south of Camp Osborn. It took out about 200 acres of the planted pines on the south side of camp and winds severely damaged the First Aid Building in the main part of camp.

All of the timber from Mike Ellis Road on the south to Mill Creek on the east to the north line property line of the camp to Camp Osborn Road on the west was knocked over by the first tornado and is being actively harvested by three full crews. Aesthetically, all of the trees are gone at camp north and west of Mill Creek and Mike Ellis Road. You can now see from the Ranger House to the Dining Hall.

Most of the timber on the ridge was knocked over by the first tornado and will also be harvested.

The photos below were taken on Thursday, January 26 at Camp Osborn.

The view of the area shown in the above photo before the trees were removed by the tornados. The gate (the Ranger house) is at the bottom left. The yellow arrow is the location from which the photo was taken and the direction. The blue outline is the area of total loss of trees in the main camp.
